Keep on trucking – to drive home road safety message

YOUNGSTERS at two Tottenham schools picked up road safety tips in a tipper truck's cabin.

They had the chance to sit in the driver's seat and learned about the relationship between cyclists, pedestrians and HGVs on London's busy roads

O'Donovan Waste Disposal, a Tottenham-based, family-run fleet operator, visited West Green Primary School, in Woodlands Park Road, and nearby St John Vianney Junior School, in Stanley Road, as part of an effort by the charity Brake to boost road safety and save lives.

More than 150 children – aged between eight and 11 – gained first-hand experience of the lorry, getting the driver's perspective of what happens on our roads.

O'Donovan managing director Jacqueline O'Donovan said: "It's vital we educate children about road safety and, as a progressive company known for bold decisions, we are keen to ensure we are making the best choices to help further protect vulnerable road users. This includes an education process for the younger generation."

Pupils pipped to the post

YOUNGSTERS with disabilities and special educational needs only just failed to defend their title at the Panathlon London football finals at Wembley.

Pupils at Riverside School, in White Hart Lane, Wood Green, represented the area in the Panathlon Foundation charity's showpiece final, which they had won for the past two years.

However, they were thwarted by Hackney, by the narrowest of margins.

Shelter figures suggest that almost 10,000 in borough are homeless

By Adrian Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

NEARLY 10,000 people are homeless in Haringey, a housing charity claims.

That means one person in 28 in the borough is afflicted, says Shelter, making it the third-worst affected London borough.

Westminster topped the London list with one in 25 people without a home, followed by Newham and then Haringey.

An estimated 9,469 people are homeless, says Shelter. The figures are calculated by combining a variety of sources – local government figures on temporary accommodation and rough sleeping, plus social services' statistics and figures on single homeless hostel bed spaces from charity Homeless Link's annual report.

Shelter's chief executive Campbell Robb said: "Shelter's founding shone a light on hidden homelessness in the 1960s' slums, but while those troubled times have faded into memory, 50 years on a modern-day housing crisis is tightening its grip on our country."

"Tens of thousands of people in London will face the trauma of waking up homeless this Christmas. Decades in the making, this is the tragic result of a nation struggling under the weight of sky-high rents, a lack of affordable homes, and cuts to welfare support."

"We all face the consequences when so many grow up without a place to call home. It breaks up communities and wreaks havoc on family life."

Shelter's co-founder Des Wilson said: "It would be pleasing if Shelter were able to take time to celebrate its 50th year, but, as this report shows, it is too aware of what still has

No place to live: Only Westminster and Newham have more homeless people than Haringey, Shelter's figures suggest to be done. I hope the country will respond to its urgent rallying call with the same combination of anger and compassion with which it supported our work all those years ago."

To support Shelter's Christmas appeal and help the homeless, visit www.shelter.org.uk or text SHELTER to 70555 to donate £3.

Stench gets up everyone's nose

Foul reek came from farm energy plant

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

THE mystery of a foul-smelling stink which has had residents holding their noses for the past week has been solved.

The pungent pong led to hundreds of people complaining to Enfield Council or taking to social media to raise concerns about what it was and whether it was harmful.

City accountant Paul Taylor had just left Gordon Hill railway station, in Enfield, on his way home from work one night last week when he says he was hit by an overpowering stench.

"I thought I'd got out at Beckton sewage works by mistake," he said. "It smelled like a cross between manure and chemicals and as I reached Lavender Hill I was almost physically sick."

"I have two young children and I didn't know whether what I was breathing was safe, so I posted something on a community blog and it was inundated with others who had smelled it at different times across the borough."

The smell, the Advertiser can reveal, was caused by non-toxic vapours escaping from a renewable energy plant which recycles commercial food waste to generate electricity for the National Grid.

The facility is on the 2,000-acre Cattlegate Farm, in Crews Hill, just over the borough's border in Hertfordshire.

Conservative councillors Nick Dines and Peter Fallart, who represent Chase ward, which neighbours the plant, this week wrote to the Environment Agency calling for an investigation and demanding reassurances about air quality and enforcement.

"There is genuine concern about the air quality," said Mr Dines.

"The Environment Agency needs to enforce and ensure the stench goes away. It also needs to be more pro-active in informing residents about what is being processed and what the impact is on the quality of the air we breathe," he added.

The company which runs the plant, Willen Biogas, processes food waste, which is broken down by micro-organisms and turned into methane to power generators, in turn creating electricity.

Partner Adrian Williams blamed the leakage on a faulty weld carried out by contractors on the "digestate back end" to the sealed vessels where methane is "harvested".

He said that a temporary fix had been put in place with the installation of an odour suppression system and insisted the fault would be fully rectified within the next 10 days.

"We have been working with the council and the Environment Agency to remedy the situation," he added.

A spokesman for the Environment Agency said that it regulates both Cattle-

Cause for concern: A lorry makes a delivery to Cattlegate Farm, top gate Farm compost site and its AD (Anaerobic Digestion) site.

"We continue to regulate the site and enforce where appropriate," he said.

"We regularly update people via email and offer this service to anyone who requests feedback."

"Any concerns about air quality and health implications should be directed to environmental health at the local council."

Man hospitalised following accident

A SERIOUS road accident involving a car and a 31-year-old pedestrian caused rush-hour chaos in Palmers Green on Monday evening.

Part of Green Lanes at the junction with Hedge Lane was closed and traffic diversions came into operation after the car was in collision with the pedestrian.

The man was taken to hospital. He is said to have non-life-threatening injuries.

Buses had to be diverted.

The Met Police's Serious Collision Investigation Unit at Chadwell Heath is investigating.

Anyone with information is asked to call the police non-emergency line on 101.

Fire crews rescue pair from flat blaze

FIREFIGHTERS rescued two people from a blaze on the first floor of a block of flats in Norton Close, Enfield, on Monday evening.

Fire crews used a ladder to bring a woman to safety and a man was led to safety down a smoke-filled staircase by firefighters wearing breathing gear.

Both were treated by ambulance crews at the scene.

Two fire engines from Enfield fire station attended. The alarm was raised at 6.42pm and the fire was under control by 7.14pm. The cause is being investigated.

Growing enthusiasm: Pupils from Lavender Primary School pupils with Mayor of Enfield Bernadette Lappage and volunteers from Friends of Forty Hall Park

Orchard will help to keep Britain's bees busy

VOLUNTEERS are hoping Forty Hall's new orchard will help boost Britain's dwindling bee population.

It is part of the Bee Project, which is run in the gardens of Forty Hall estate, in Forty Hill, Enfield, by conservation volunteer group Friends of Forty Hall Park.

Bee boxes have already been placed outside in the walled garden and the hope is that 13 newly planted apple and pear trees will increase numbers of buzzing visitors to the park.

The group received a grant of £700 from The Tree Council charity to fund so-called stepover fruit trees, which are ideal for restricted space because they grow horizontally at such a low height that they can be stepped over – hence the name.

Volunteers also used money raised from their summer event Music on the Lawn to buy metal frames to support the trees.

They were joined last week by three Enfield primary schools which helped lend a hand and plant them across two days

Pupils from Lavender school, in Lavender Road, visited on Friday and Carterhatch school, in Carterhatch Lane, and Suffolks school, in Brick Lane, visited on Thursday.

They also took part in a fruit tree biology and life cycle workshop.

Mayor of Enfield Bernadette Lappage, visited the orchard as the guest of honour.

"Bees love apple and pear trees," said Jo-Ann Brown, volunteer organiser at Friends of Forty Hall Park.

"And as we have made and fitted bee boxes along the wall in the Walled Garden, we hope we will have lots of happy bees buzzing around next spring enjoying the step-over apple and pear trees."

Visitors can also pick the apples straight from the trees to eat.

"The trees have been specially selected as they are native to the south-east of England and many of them are now rare heritage varieties," explained Jo-Ann.

"Planting these trees reflects the garden's historic use as a space for growing food."

Endangered: Britain's bees are in trouble

FAMILIES in desperate need of emergency food supplies over the festive season were given a helping hand with non-perishable items donated in the run-up to the Jewish festival – Mitzvah Day.

A collection point for food donations was set up at Enfield Civic Centre, in Silver Street, in support of the annual festival, which was celebrated on Sunday, November 27, and is committed to helping members of the community in need.

Yasemin Brett, Enfield Council's cabinet member for community, arts and culture, joined members from North Enfield Foodbank, in Lumina Way, to distribute boxes of staple supplies to Enfield families on Tuesday last week.

"This is a wonderful inter-faith project for the council," said Ms Brett.

"And it is exciting to know that, especially at this time of year, we can all do something to ensure that families and people living on low incomes, lone pensioners and young people do not go without food."

To donate food supplies or volunteer at North Enfield Food Bank, email info@nortenfield.foodbank.org.uk or call manager Kerry Coe on 07826 542119.

Timetable protests gather momentum

By Clare Casey

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

HUGE numbers of commuters have signed a petition against timetable changes that would see their train service dramatically cut in peak times.

More than 850 Grange Park residents – furious over Great Northern's proposals to slash the number of trains by a third during the morning rush hour – are calling for service operator Govia Thameslink Railway to rethink the proposed changes that would be implemented in 2018.

Nicola Jefferson, who started the petition, said: "I work in Victoria and use that service every day, along with many others.

"A lot of commuters already have to go from Winchmore Hill because there are more trains from there, but Grange Park is their preferred station.

"The Office of Rail and Road has given us information that shows from 2013 until 2015 – which is their last recorded information – there has been an increase of 14 per cent of people using Grange Park. That increase is the largest in the whole Enfield area. People here are livid that despite those figures they are thinking of cutting our peak-time trains."

Rail chiefs met residents and Enfield Southgate MP David Burrows two weeks ago to discuss their concerns. Speaking at the meeting, Phil Hutchinson, head of strategic planning at GTR, promised that the company would listen to Enfield commuters and urged people to go online before tomorrow (Thursday) to submit feedback.

Grange Park is between Winchmore Hill and Enfield Chase stations on the Great Northern line

and – if the changes are approved – would have a reduced peak hour service from 2018.

GTR is having a timetable shake-up to "improve services" between Moorgate and Gordon Hill on the Hertford North loop.

The company said that even though it was suggesting a morning peak hour reduction, there would be more trains to Grange Park throughout the day and more on Saturdays.

Great Northern spokesman Roger Perkins said: "This proposal for the morning peak was based on our understanding of passenger demand and the need to spread train loadings out across services that have different station stopping patterns.

"However, the consultation is just that – a consultation – and we will be reviewing everything people are telling us."

Festive fun: Rides in a horse-drawn carriage were among the attractions at Forty Hall on Saturday

A MAGICAL children's Christmas event had youngsters full of festive cheer at Forty Hall on Saturday.

It was set in the grounds and inside the Jacobean mansion in Forty Hill, Enfield, and visitors enjoyed activities including a ride in a horse-drawn carriage around the lake.

Santa and Mrs Claus joined by Head Elf greeted children as they visited the grotto in the stone cottage.

"The grotto was so magical," said Hatice Abdullah, manager at Forty Hall. "The children were so excited to meet them."

New law would permit exhumation of bodies

By Clare Casey

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

THE grave issue of dwindling burial space looks set to be remedied with a new law that would allow bodies to be exhumed from New Southgate cemetery.

If the New Southgate cemetery bill gets the green light, graves which are more than 75 years old could be exhumed, the remains reburied "to their deepest depth" and new caskets buried on top.

Otherwise, in nine years' time the cemetery, in Brunswick Park Road, that is the last resting place of many from the Catholic, Cypriot and Caribbean communities as well as being the main burial place for the Baha'i faith, including the grave of its founder – will be at maximum capacity.

David Burrowes MP for Enfield Southgate, said: "There is a critical need for more grave spaces at New Southgate. The law will be much appreciated by the local community who want a local cemetery to bury their loved ones."

"I was delighted to sponsor and guide the new cemetery bill through its second reading last week."

"It all but guarantees its safe passage into law after it goes through the formality of remaining stages in the Commons."

Local authorities in London already have the power to re-use areas where a

Running out of space: New Southgate cemetery

burial has not taken place for 75 years.

But New Southgate cemetery and crematorium is a private company and does not have the same rights.

The aim of the New Southgate cemetery bill is to free up old graves to enable a sustainable future.

The cemetery company states that "in cases where a burial has not taken place for 75 years or more the remains would be reverently gathered together and then reburied more deeply using a method known as lift and deepen".

If the bill is given the go-ahead, all grave owners will be given six months' notice to object.

Any objection would see if any re-use of that grave postponed for a minimum of 25 years.

The cemetery company has already written to all of the grave owners within the oldest sections dating back to 1856, but 99 per cent of the letters were returned by Royal Mail as undeliverable because the families have died or moved away.

Seven men are locked up following brawl in street

SEVEN men – including four from Enfield – have been locked up for their part in a violent street clash between rival groups, wielding knives and brandishing a firearm.

The frenzied fight took place in Joyce Avenue, Edmonton, in the early hours of February 25 this year – and on Friday at Wood Green Crown Court the last of the thugs was sentenced.

The excessive level of violence used prompted the police officer who led the investigation – Detective Constable Rob Jones, of the Met's Trident and Area Crime Command – to remark: "It is only by sheer luck that no person died as a result."

Violence erupted after Hayder Bozkina, 20, and Bartek Glowacki, 21, drove to the location at 3am in an arranged meeting with Rekan Saver, 20, to settle a dispute over money.

After the brawl, Delman Mahmoud and Mahir Kilic were arrested at North Middlesex University Hospital, in Sterling Way, Edmonton, where they had sought treatment.

Saver handed himself into police three hours later. Mahmoud Abubakr was also arrested for his role in the disorder.

A search of a car used by Saver's group found in the hospital's car park revealed an imitation firearm.

Mohammed Abdi, 18, of Munster Gardens, Palmers Green, pleaded guilty to affray on Friday and was detained under the Mental Health Act.

The six other thugs were jailed at the same court after pleading guilty to a variety of charges at previous hearings.

Saver, of Westminster Gardens, Edmonton, was jailed for 20 months in September for affray and possession of an imitation firearm.

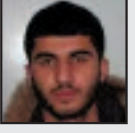

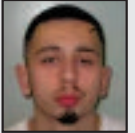

Kilic, 27, from Wood Green, appeared with Saver and was sentenced to eight months in prison for affray.

Mahmoud, 20, of Bedford Road, Edmonton, was jailed for 20 months for affray and possession of an offensive weapon.

Abubakr, 18, of Oakfield Gardens, Edmonton, was sentenced to 16 months in prison for affray.

Bozkina, from Leytonstone, east London, was jailed for 15 months last month for affray and possession of an offensive weapon.

Glowacki, also from Leytonstone, was given a 21-month prison sentence for the same offences.

Jailed: From top, Bozkina, Glowacki, Saver, Kilic, Mahmoud and Abubakr

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

ADVERTORIAL

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and manager Richard Power agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Richard a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Your lucky number

IT'S the American dream fable of Broadway – and we have three pairs of tickets to give away.

Broadway show 42nd Street – featuring the iconic title song 42nd Street, as well as We're In The Money, Lullaby of Broadway, Shuffle Off To Buffalo, Dames and I Only Have Eyes For You – arrives in the West End at the Theatre Royal Drury Lane next spring.

Grammy Award winner Sheena Easton joins an all-singing, high-kicking cast as Dorothy Brock with Tom Lister as Julian Marsh and Clare Halse as Peggy Sawyer.

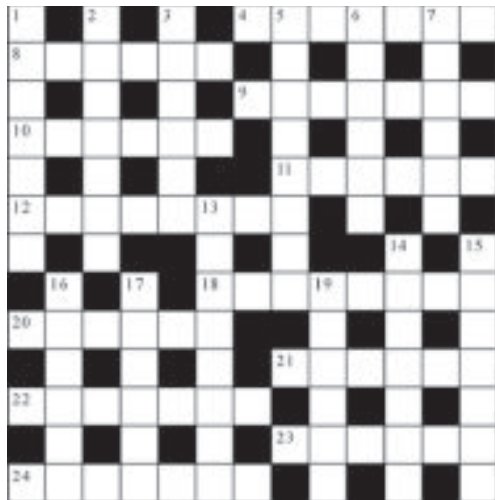

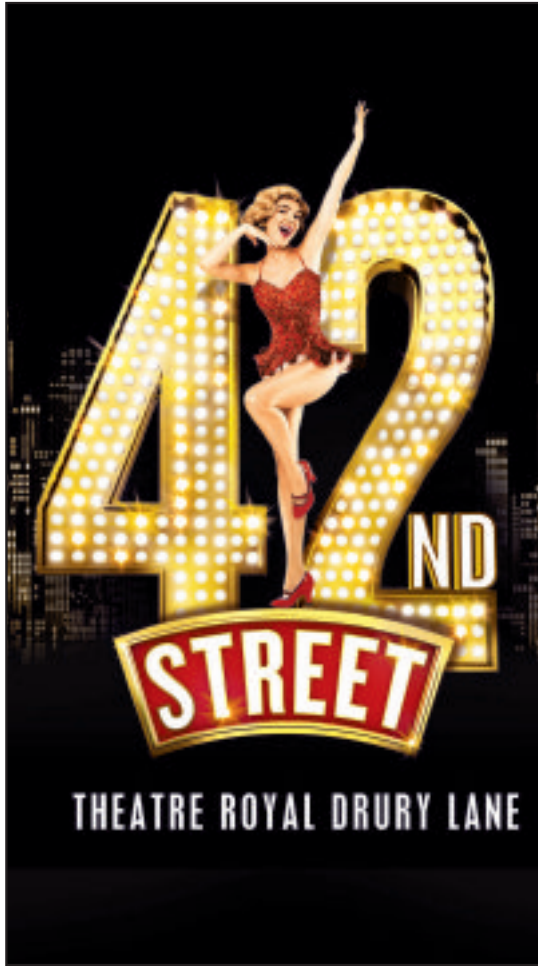

For your chance to win, just answer this question:

● Which theatre will 42nd Street be on at?

- a) Theatre Royal Drury Lane
- b) Catherine
- c) London

Send your answer, with your name, address and a daytime phone number, to: 42nd Street Competition, North London & Herts Newspapers, 187 Baker Street, Enfield, EN1 3JT, or send your answer, with contact details, to competitions@nlhnews.co.uk, with "42nd Street" in the subject line, by noon on December 15.

Terms and conditions
 ■ Prize tickets are pairs of top-price tickets and are valid for all Monday to Thursday performances between March 20 and April 13, excluding April 4.
 ■ Tickets are strictly subject to availability.
 ■ Tickets are non-transferable.
 ■ No cash alternative is available.
 ■ Travel is not included.

'Dangerous sex predator' jailed

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A "DANGEROUS" sexual predator from Edmonton, who raped a young girl over three years, has been jailed.

Mohammed Dauhoo groomed his victim after a chance meeting when she was just nine.

He invited her to his home in Upper Edmonton and raped and sexually assaulted her on numerous occasions.

The 72-year-old, who is now of no fixed address, bought the girl gifts including laptops, mobile phones and clothes as he groomed her.

His victim, who cannot be named for legal reasons, came forward and told a teacher what had happened after Dauhoo was convicted in 2013 for similar offences.

A jury at Southwark Crown Court found him guilty of five counts of raping a child under the age of 13 and two charges of sexual activity with a child between July 2009 and March 2013.

He was sentenced to 14 years and six months in prison last Wednesday.

Detective Sergeant David Hillier, of the Met Police's sexual offences, exploitation and child abuse command, said: "I would like to commend the bravery of the young girl in this case for having the courage to come forward and tell her teacher and then speak with our officers."

"Dauhoo is an extremely dangerous sexual predator, who now faces the very real prospect of spending the rest of his days in prison."

"I also hope that this case gives courage to others who may have suffered or may be suffering similar abuse to come forward and report it."

Children's charity the NSPCC urged victims to come forward if they have suffered sexual assault.

A spokeswoman said: "It takes a lot of courage for sexual abuse victims to open up about what has happened to them, but it is important that when they do they are listened to. Dauhoo's conviction is proof that no matter when offences like this take place once reported they will be investigated thoroughly and those responsible will be brought to justice."

She said THAT adults who are concerned about child welfare can contact the NSPCC Helpline on 0800 800 5000 and children and young people can call Childline on 0800 1111, or at www.childline.org.uk

Boy, 15, released without charge after death

A 15-YEAR-OLD boy from Enfield has been released from bail without charge and faces no further action in connection with the death of a man found in a fire-damaged car in Essex.

The boy, who cannot be named for legal reasons, was arrested on November 23 following the death of 30-year-old Vilson Meshi.

Mr Meshi was discovered in his Audi car in Pitsea nine months ago, on February 27.

Two other teenagers – an 18-year-old girl and 15-year-old boy – have also been arrested in connection with Mr Meshi's death, and a 46-year-old woman, from Basildon, Essex, has been arrested on suspicion of theft and assisting an offender.

All three have been released on bail to return to a police station on December 21.

FAMILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Teenager praised for taking 'selfless' care of her mum

Special bond: Chandrika Gopalakrishnan, 19, looks after her mum Raji

By Clare Casey

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

YOUNG carer Chandrika Gopalakrishnan has had to grow up fast.

She learned sign language early in life and by the age of 12 she was sole carer for her mum Raji at their home in Ash Grove, Palmers Green.

Raji, 51, has Usher syndrome, a condition that rendered her deaf and with progressive blindness. She has always relied on Chandrika, now 19, to help her navigate her daily appointments and routines.

Chandrika said: "Mum has been deaf since before I was born. I learnt sign language so that I could act as a bridge between my mum and the wider world.

"But over the past four years her eyesight has got much worse and she is now registered blind.
"For her to see me sign, she has to hold my hands and feel what my fingers are doing.

"It's been hard. I had a really low time when I was doing my A-levels. I had all this pressure on me - that I heaped on myself - to get really good grades and go on and do medicine. But it all got too much with the work and mum."

Chandrika volunteers for national charity
Sense, which organises week-long summer holidays for more than 100 deafblind children and adults each year.

At 17, she was its youngest volunteer.

It was through this and by campaigning relentlessly for the Deaf Project - a charity for deaf people in Edmonton that had its funding slashed by Enfield Council in March - that she met MP for Enfield Southgate David Burrows.

She said: "Mr Burrows nominated me for the Kids Count Inspiration Awards, so two weeks ago my family and I all went to the House of Commons. It was a really special day."

Chandrika was highly commended for her "courage and selflessness".

She is taking a year out from study and thanks to her signing skills has just got a job with the Empowering Deaf Society charity, organising events.

She said: "I will keep fighting to get more funding for the Deaf Project in Edmonton. It was such a lifeline for me as a child. I could go to them with council tax, income tax, important letters, forms I had to fill in - things that at the age of 12 you have no idea about - and they'd do it all for me.

"I hate the thought that other young carers in Edmonton don't have the help that I had."

A spokesman for the council said: "In common with many other local authorities, Enfield Council has seen its budgets significantly reduced by the government in recent years, forcing us to reduce expenditure across the board.

"Despite these budget pressures we were able to continue to fund the Deaf Project, although the amount of funding we provided was reduced."

Chickenshed Theatre

THE Tinman is oiled and polished, the Woozy has the three hairs on his tail brushed and shampooed and Dorothy has her ruby shoes on ready to help Ojo the Unlucky Munchkin in his quest to save Unc Nunkie from forever remaining a marble statue...

If you wonder what on earth I am writing about, think no more – I am giving you the rough plot of our brand new festive show – Adventure to Oz that opened last Thursday to rapturous family audiences.

The magic of seeing the Chickenshed company working together and sharing their individuality and talents with one another and the audience is an event once experienced and never forgotten. It is truly breathtaking and I hope you can find the time to come and experience the magic with us.

This is my first time directing our magnificent performers – composed of four companies each of 200 young people and our professional inclusive staff – and it has given me such joy to see the audiences whooping and applauding the entertaining achievements of each performance so far.

Chickenshed shows, whether they are in our Studio Theatre or our larger space, the Rayne Theatre, are increasingly becoming hot tickets as audience interest in our work continues to grow. Some Adventure to Oz dates are already sold out, so book soon to avoid disappointment. If you would like to book, contact the box office on 020 8292 9222, email bookings@chickenshed.org.uk or visit our website at www.chickenshed.org.uk

I look forward to welcoming you to Chickenshed during this festive season.

Get in touch if you're worried about elder abuse

NEW research from Independent Age, the older people's charity, has found that more than half of British adults (52 per cent) believe that abuse and neglect in care homes for the elderly is common.

Of those, many say their opinion is based on personal experience – either knowing someone in a care home (15 per cent), working in a care home (five per cent), or hearing personal experience from others (25 per cent).

Our new report, Shining a Light On Care: Helping People Make Better Care Home Choices, calls for new measures to understand the scale of the problem. We want the government to take responsibility for collecting core information about care homes to give earlier warnings of a home providing poor care. We have two free advice guides available to download or order and they may help people affected by these issues.

Anyone who needs more information about how to choose a care home for themselves or for an older relative or friend can order the guide for free at independentage.org/care-home-guide or by calling 0800 319 6789. Those who need more targeted guidance can call the free Independent Age helpline on 0800 319 6789 and arrange to speak to an expert adviser.

If you're worried about yourself or a loved one, the leaflet can be downloaded for free at www.independentage.org/information/advice-guides-factsheets-leaflets/staying-control-when-youre-older or by calling 0800 319 6789 for free.

The line can offer advice to those who think they are being abused or may be at risk of abuse, so please do get in touch if you have any concerns.

Are meters for our benefit – or theirs?

GLAD to read the article about smart meters ("Not so smart", Advertiser, November 23). They are really being pushed on us.

I wrote several times to Thames Water and in the end they said they had answered my questions (which they hadn't) and that they would write no more.

All the glowing words in their literature about wanting to "understand" their customers are just that – words.

They want us to go away and not bother them really.

The dangers of smart meters are well set out on the internet by Dr Andrew Goldsworthy and others, but Thames Water hold on to their own report (I guess funded by them) and will not listen to any other arguments.

We need to pay for our water and section 162 of the Water Industry Act 1991 is right that we need to meter our supplies, but I don't need a smart meter to tell me that running the tap while cleaning my teeth or having a shave wastes water.

When I shower, do I take five minutes or 20, which uses the most water? The answer is easy.

I believe the water companies particularly don't want to employ people to read the meters, so have dressed this up to look as if it's for our benefit when really it's for their's.

The view from the public gallery told a different story

RE: "This was contempt for democracy" (Advertiser, November 23).

In reply to Councillor Mary Maguire's letter, I respond thus.

Freedom of speech is important in civilised society, but the assertion expressed by Mrs Maguire that "contempt for democracy" was shown by opposition councillors is ill-founded.

If anyone is guilty of contempt, I suggest that it was the individuals who behaved with an alarming and juvenile disregard for their constituents.

I sat in the public gallery during the meeting convened in September and witnessed the disgraceful behaviour displayed by members of the Labour group, which has prompted more than 50 members of the public to register complaints with the council.

Regardless of personal convictions, public servants are expected to behave with integrity and respect for the opinions of others.

Democracy was maligned that night, but not by any member of the opposition group.

What made it unworkable?

WE recognise and commend David Burrowes' personal efforts to lobby the government to alleviate the suffering of refugee children who have reached Europe.

We also welcome his commitment to continue to campaign on their behalf. He has, however, in his reply, failed to address the vital question we highlighted – the way he voted and why in his opinion the original Dubs amendment was unworkable, the consequences of which have been appalling.

A large number of Labour MPs and some Conservatives felt it was morally justified and workable and that the cost implications did not constitute a reason to reject it.

It was felt an absurdity that local authorities in the country with the fifth largest economy in the world can't cope with looking after fewer than five children in each constituency in the country.

We would be interested to hear exactly what his reason for voting against the amendment was and why it was deemed unworkable?

We also hope he will redouble his efforts to work with Enfield Council to accommodate more of the children who have been accepted by the UK.

We would like to know what his action plan is for moving forward to keep the issue at the top of the agenda.

A big thank you to everybody

MANY thanks to the people of eastern Enfield for supporting the Poppy Appeal this year.

Our branch has collected more than £17,000 which will help serving and ex-serving members of the armed forces. Thanks especially to the supermarkets (Sainsbury's, Morrisons and Tesco) for allowing collections on their premises.

Thanks to all those who helped at the branch, especially the collectors – Sharna, Brian, Richard, Eric, Mary, Pat W, Janet, Mary H, Pat A, Frances, the ATC 1571 and Christine and Jeff, who won the shield for the highest total.

No lion, but magic galore

Adventure to Oz
Chickenshed Theatre, December 1

MAGIC is part of the Christmas tradition and, with its exuberant festive show, catchy tunes and stunning costumes and set, Chickenshed has cast a successful spell.

This year the audience heads off on a journey to the peaceful kingdom of Oz, where the ethos ensures that above all kindness is the order of the day – but unauthorised magicking is banned.

Adventure to Oz includes a strong cast of lead actors, music with lyrics from Lou Stein and music by Dave Carey, a set with the wow factor from Robin Don – and bags of charm.

Much-loved Queen Ozma – a charming Eloise Runnett – looks out over the corners of her kingdom with the aid of a magic window which allows her to see what people are up to.

When our hero Ojo the Unlucky (Chickenshed stalwart Sebastian Gonzalez) and his Unc Nunkie (Nigel Spurgeon) set off on a quest for food and encounter the Crooked Magician (Pete Dowse), their Queen can only watch from afar as they fall under his spell.

But Ojo has to take to the road to save his uncle and the magician's wife, a sparkly Lauren Cambridge, from the wrong kind of magic.

He sets off with his new friends Patchwork Girl (Belinda McGuirk) and the Glass Cat (Phil Constantinou) when the magician goes awry and faces a quest to find a list of hard-to-find ingredients in perilous places.

Along the way he encounters familiar characters from Oz, including Dorothy and the Scarecrow – but "where's the lion?" asked the young theatre-goer next to us.

No lion, but a frightening giant (voiced by Iain Whitmore), with a fondness for humans for dinner, and encounters with a strange creature called The Wozy (Michael Bossisse), which has a taste for bees.

The company's inclusive ethos means that the performers even had the chance to help out with some of the costumes, using templates to help create some of Nancy Surman's colourful and stunning designs.

Chickenshed's Christmas show harnesses the talents of 800 performers, who will be appearing on four different rotas throughout the run – and, with all this talent, who needs a lion?

Adventure to Oz runs until January 7 at Chickenshed's Rayne Theatre, in Chase Side, Southgate.

restaurant review

Love me tender (fresh octopus...)

THE GANNETS

Thalassa, Chase Side, Southgate

THIS must be the only Mediterranean seafood restaurant for a country mile where guests are entertained by an Elvis impersonator.

I couldn't help falling in love with my starter of fresh Devon crab and avocado salad, and the prawns and scallops ravioli will always be on my mind.

Being a pescatarian, I had a burning love for this place (OK, that's enough Elvis puns for now).

You could smell the sea on the Devon crab and the ravioli were little parcels of treasure from the seabed, soaked in a salty, creamy seafood sauce.

The Gannets tucked into gently-fried halibut, which was firm and juicy and expertly seasoned, and would have been fit for the King of Rock and Roll himself or even King Neptune.

A talking point was the tank of flesh-eating piranhas next to our table, where, apparently, one of the tank members was eaten by another one day to the horror of guests.

My own drama unfolded when I noticed the halibut was wrapped in Parma ham, and 15 years of pescatarianism almost ended in one mouthful. Had this dish been the devil in disguise?

Whenever Elvis impersonator Mario Kombou performs, dishes on the menu are lovingly renamed with song titles such as Love Me Tender (fresh octopus with potato salad) and The Wonder of You (pan-fried monk fish).

Co-owner Piero Colucci says he "came out of his shell" about six months ago when he took over the restaurant, his first-ever business venture, along with chef Luigi Romano, whom Piero met during a career of more than 20 years working at restaurants in London's West End.

"We put our experiences together to create our own recipes," says Piero, who is from the Italian "seafood city" of Bari.

"I know we're good at what we do. Sometimes we stay up all night cooking a dish over and over again to get it the way I want it."

Don't miss the Christmas menu, which includes The Cod Father - "a dish you can't refuse" - roast cod wrapped in Parma ham on lentils and truffle oil.

There's also an Amy Winehouse impersonator who entertains at Thalassa.

Attention: DENTURE WEARERS

If you are a denture wearer then this article may be of some interest to you! If you can relate to any of the following questions then it is a sign your denture needs attention:

DO YOU FIND YOUR DENTURES:

- Do not fit as well on your gums as they used to?
- Are they loose?
- Do not cut food as well as they used to?
- Do they make your face look older?
- Have discoloured despite meticulous cleaning or
- Cause discomfort/pain on chewing?

If any of the above breeds familiar territory then I may be able to alleviate some of these problems for you.

My name is Caroline Persaud I am a qualified CLINICAL DENTAL TECHNICIAN. Many of you may be aware of Dental Technicians/Mechanics who repair and produce dentures for dentists, however, due to recent changes in the Dental law, a group of Dental Care Professionals known as Clinical Dental Technicians have been approved by the General Dental Council and can now see denture wearers who have no natural teeth remaining, directly without having to visit a dentist.

The advantages to you, the patients, are numerous. You can be treated by a professional who has been clinically trained to undertake the impressions of your mouth and who also has the technical skill to manufacture your denture to meet your requirements.

A more direct, rapid and personalised service, that can be delivered to you in the comfort of your own home or at my day clinic in Edmonton.

If you wish to discuss any denture related issues please do not hesitate to contact me on:

Whistleblower's pedestrian story

SNOWDEN (15, 134 mins)

IN February 2015, documentary filmmaker Laura Poitras deservedly won an Oscar for her riveting picture Citizenfour, which charts the events leading up to Edward Snowden's decision to go public as the CIA contractor who leaked sensitive material belonging to the NSA (National Security Agency).

In her film, Poitras conducts a series of secret interviews with Snowden holed up in a hotel room in Hong Kong in the company of investigative journalist Glenn Greenwald and The Guardian newspaper's defence and intelligence correspondent Ewen MacAskill.

When Snowden's whereabouts leaks to the media, he moves to Poitras' room and her film becomes a fascinating portrait of a man on the run from his own government.

This real-life story torn from global news headlines provides the inspiration for Oliver Stone's character study, which dramatises events that took place between 2004 and 2013 with occasional brushstrokes of artistic licence.

For anyone who saw Poitras' documentary, this film is a redundant exercise in glossy repackaging.

Curiously, it's lacking in director Stone's trademark fire and brimstone and his pedestrian trawl through recent history only sparks to life thanks to Joseph Gordon-Levitt's assured central performance as the beleaguered whistleblower.

It opens with Poitras (Melissa Leo) and Greenwald (Zachary Quinto) meeting

Snowden (Gordon-Levitt) in Hong Kong. They place mobile phones in a microwave in Snowden's room – a security measure to prevent surveillance tracking – before he recounts his life story in a series of flashbacks.

He recalls his training with the US army, which leads to a position at the CIA under unit director Corbin O'Brian (Rhys Ifans).

"Secrecy is security, and security is victory," O'Brian tells his young charges.

Snowden's impressive coding skills propel him on the fast track to writing programs that will protect sensitive NSA data.

Meanwhile, he begins dating Lindsay Mills (Shailene Woodley), who stands by him as he embarks on his momentous course, but is also his voice of conscience.

"It's like I'm on a trajectory I can't turn back from," he laments. "You can always turn back," she replies sternly.

This is a polished, if suspense-free, political thriller for our surveillance-heavy times and shines a sympathetic light on the lead character.

Stone's screenplay, co-written by Kieran Fitzgerald, fails to sketch events outside the Hong Kong hotel room in sufficient detail to give a clear sense of the multiple moral dilemmas and terrible repercussions.

Gordon-Levitt delivers a measured performance, teasing out Snowden's naivete as he delivers the script's barnstorming key speeches in favour of disclosure: "It's not about terrorism. Terrorism is the excuse. It's about social and economic control."

Footage of the real Snowden during the film's closing moments is a reminder of the superiority of the Citizenfour documentary.

New term, new home at Terlings Park

As recent figures reveal that 25% of parents have either bought or rented a new property to secure an address in the catchment area of the best schools*, award-winning developer Bloor Homes is encouraging parents in Gilston to make the move to its Terlings Park development now, ahead of the school application deadline in January.

As a family owned business, Bloor Homes recognises that for homebuyers, a top priority is schools. Indeed, a survey of 2,000 people by the developer revealed that nearly a quarter of homeowners consider a school as 'the heart of the community' while the ability to walk to a quality school also ranked high on parents' wish list when looking for a new home.

Bloor Homes is therefore keen to assist prospective purchasers in Gilston to secure their dream home now, to ensure they stand the best chance of getting their child into their school of choice for 2017.

Terlings Park provides the perfect location for families looking to live within close proximity to excellent schools. Within close proximity to the development is a range of schools including Burnt Mill Academy which achieved an Ofsted 'Outstanding' rating on last inspection and St Albans Catholic Primary, Freshwaters Primary Academy, High Wych Church of England Primary, Tany's Dell Community Primary and The Downs Primary, which all hold an Ofsted 'Good' rating.

So, with homes available for completion from December, there couldn't be a better time to buy at Terlings Park.

Vanessa Macnee, Regional Sales Director explains: "Needing additional space for a growing family and being in easy reach of great schools goes hand-in-hand for many families. That's why finding a modern home in a desirable location is on the wish list for so many house hunters.

"It's still not too late to secure your dream home in your dream catchment ahead of the January application deadline with the ability to exchange in as little as four weeks. Come and talk to one of our experienced sales team today."

Terlings Park offers a collection of luxury, high specification three, four and five bed homes for sale in Gilston. Whilst being able to enjoy this semi-rural setting, commuters can also take advantage of good direct rail links in Harlow and on to London. Homes currently available for December completion include the four bedroom Montagu design at £695,000.

For more information on the home and incentives available, please visit the sales centre on Eastwick Road, Gilton, CM20 2QR. Alternatively contact the sales advisor on 01279 882 823 or visit <https://bloorhomes.com/developments/south-midlands/terlings-park>.

More comfortable than exciting

By James Baggott

MEET the California T HS – the tweaked version of the manufacturer's folding hard-top family Ferrari. With two seats in the back for small children and a V8 turbo-charged lump up front, this is the convertible Italian supercar for those who need to carry more than one significant other.

New for the Handling Speciale model are some stiffer springs, louder exhaust and some ever-so-subtle design tweaks – which you'll be charged £5,568 to add to an ever-expanding list of options.

The California is aimed at a certain type of buyer and has the ability to disappoint behind the wheel, unless you drive it in context. This is a GT car designed for comfort, looks and kerb appeal much before driving entertainment, unlike its thoroughbred 488 stablemate. That means it's more comfortable than exciting to drive. Even with the louder exhaust system on this HS model, on the road we found it just a little too quiet.

In fact, we found the California lacked a lot of the excitement you'd expect to find in a Ferrari. Despite its impressive performance credentials, it just didn't feel as involving as we'd hoped. That said, it was certainly a comfortable companion over distance and never failed to draw a crowd whenever we parked. The quality of its build is without question, too – perfectly demonstrated with a wonderfully dramatic roof mechanism.

OK, so a Ferrari isn't going to win any accessibility. However, this is a sports car and comes with sports car compromises. Put the front seats back to anything less than a knee-crushing position and you lose all rear legroom – which means even carrying a five-year-old requires the front seat passengers to perform some gymnastics for the journey. The boot is pretty cramped, too. If you don't want to use the roof, you get a little more space, but if you do, then you'll be refined to two small bags at best. Weekly shopper, this isn't.

For long-distance motorway journeys, the California T HS is a comfy drive. The 552bhp turbo-charged V8 has impressive breadth to its power delivery and although the feeling of acceleration is somewhat numbed in the cabin, it can hit 60mph in just 3.6 seconds. Sadly, the turbo engine loses some of the charms of a normally aspirated unit. It may offer improved performance, but sadly lacks some of the aural pleasure you expect from a Ferrari.

Those stiffer springs and louder exhaust come into play when you select the Sport setting on the manettino switch on the steering wheel. Hit the bumpy road button on the steering wheel, too, and you'll be rewarded with a compliant ride that's just about perfect for rutted roads. A parking camera makes backing the Ferrari into spaces a pretty simple affair and, despite its sports car credentials, the visibility isn't too bad either.

The California T Handling Speciale costs £155,244, – but that base price soon increases once you start ticking some options boxes.

Two-tone exterior (£4,320), carbon fibre dash inserts (£3,744), Scuderia Ferrari side shields (£1,056) and front and rear parking cameras (£4,032) are just a few of the options that can soon add up. In fact, our test car had no fewer than 29 options added – including titanium wheel bolts at £1,810 – which pushed the purchase price up to a staggering £215,011. That's a whopping £59,767 on extras.

One worth adding is Apple CarPlay (£2,400), which makes the infotainment system far more usable. Ferrari's standard system isn't a match for the likes of Audi or Porsche, so the addition of Apple's integrated software is well worth selecting.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

- Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

- 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1997, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', 'IT' etc. in the advertisement.

- The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

- The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

- Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

- The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

- Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

- All gross advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-closed) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

- All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

- Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly and the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

- The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

- Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company, the Company and the Customer.

- (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

- (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 4% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

- Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

- All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

- All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

- The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

- The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection

The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search of a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Capital Media Newspapers Ltd or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

HENDON SCHOOL

Golders Rise, London NW4 2HP

Learning Support Assistant

Salary: £12,849 p.a. | Permanent, Part Time

We are keen to appoint a Learning Support Assistant to work in HARP (Hendon Autism Resource Provision). In HARP we aim to ensure that students feel safe, understood, content and valued while simultaneously developing the desire, skills and resilience to be part of a neurotypical (ie. Non-Autistic) world; we aim to bridge the divide between the perceptions, cognitive style, motivation and experiences of our students and the demands of school and wider society.

Experience of working with students with Asperger's or students from the autistic spectrum an advantage but not essential

Application forms are available from our website www.hendonschool.co.uk and once completed should be emailed to vacancies@hendonschool.co.uk.

We do not accept CVs.

Closing date for applications is 8th January 2017.

We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and expect all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

In this rapidly moving technological age people are finding new ways to advertise, especially online via the internet. But contrary to what online sites are saying and common assumptions, print advertising is not dead. There are still benefits and disadvantages to both methods and the best way to succeed is to find a vehicle that covers both bases - and that's where we come in!

The Benefits of print advertising:

1. Print adverts last longer and will be seen often.
2. They will be seen by a large number of people and have the ability to hit a specific audience.
3. There is a more creative potential with print advertising.
4. There is a positive perception of newspaper advertising - it will encourage people to think the client is serious.

The Benefits of online advertising:

1. The advert content can be easily updated.
2. It's online 24/7, 12 months a year, all round the world.
3. A massive audience, with all ages now online.
4. Very quick response - you can be receiving candidates hours after posting your advert.

We'll give you the best of both worlds - every week, all week!

TOTTENHAM'S CRUSHING WIN

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

MANAGER Mauricio Pochettino hailed his Tottenham Hotspur side after they romped to a 5-0 victory at home to Swansea City on Saturday to claim their biggest Premier League win of the season.

Spurs came into the match on the back of a disappointing run of results which had seen them only win once in ten attempts in all competitions, but they put that behind them in emphatic fashion with a resounding triumph which saw them climb to within three points of the top four.

"We were excellent and I'm pleased," Pochettino said. "I'm very happy with the performance and the three points to be close to the top is very important for us. We needed to feel victory again after the defeats to Monaco and Chelsea and we fully deserved it."

"You can feel when the players want to change their levels and it was a fantastic week, good for us to recover the energy and the feeling. It was a great victory for us."

"I was pleased with how we played, our concentration and determination to win the game. We were aggressive with and without the ball, always tried to play and looked like Tottenham again. We played well against Chelsea, but in this match we confirmed that we've started to recover our feeling as a team."

"We have a lot of important games ahead and we're in a good position. It's unlucky that we're out of the Champions League and it was a very tough period last month, but I'm happy we've recovered our feeling and now we have to keep going."

MARTIN DALTON

At the double: Harry Kane celebrates after scoring his second goal in Spurs' win against Swansea

Spurs were initially frustrated by lowly Swansea, but the floodgates opened after Harry Kane broke the deadlock on 39 minutes.

Son Heung-Min added a stunning second on the stroke of half-time and Kane put them further ahead before a Christian Eriksen double completed the rout.

"It was a very good performance," said Kane, who signed a new six-year deal with the club last week.

"We had to be patient because Swansea came to frustrate us and drop off, but we moved the ball quicker, created a lot of chances and obviously got the first two goals before half-time and then the third straight after."

"That really gave us the momentum for that second half and we went out there and got the big win."

"I was itching to get the hat-trick. I had a couple of chances towards the end where the keeper pulled off a good save and then a couple of tired finishes, but I'm happy with the two goals and the most important thing is the three points."

"I scored two goals in six games before my injury and now I think it's eight in 11. I'm pleased with the two goals and hopefully we can get a good run together now, get some wins going and really push up the league."

Vertonghen happy at new Spurs deal

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR defender Jan Vertonghen has spoken of his delight after putting pen to paper on a new contract which will keep him at the club until 2019.

The 29-year-old Belgian, who arrived four years ago from Ajax Amsterdam, has gone on to make 179 appearances for the club.

"When I first joined things were different with a different manager and still at the old training ground as well," he said. "A lot has changed."

"This is an unbelievable group of talented guys and I feel privileged to be part of it. We've created a great atmosphere. The results haven't been the best lately but you can still feel that this can be a great season for us."

"I can't imagine playing somewhere else at the moment. We have a great team with the technical staff, the medical staff, everyone around us, all great guys. It feels good to help Tottenham achieve the goals we want to achieve."

Vertonghen put pen to paper on his new deal on Friday, just 24 hours after star striker Harry Kane had signed a six-year contract which will keep him at Spurs until 2022.

"Everyone knows what I feel for this club," Kane said. "To sign another contract is a special feeling. We have got a great young squad and the club is moving in the right direction. I had no hesitation in signing."

"I got my chance and took my chance, but now it's time to work even harder to maintain that level. I want to be a top striker year in, year out, scoring goals and I know I have to work hard every year to maintain that."

Borough's good run comes to an end with heavy defeat

HARINGEY BOROUGH'S excellent run of form came to an abrupt halt on Saturday when they slumped to a 5-2 defeat at VCD Athletic in Ryman League North Division.

Borough came into the match having won five of their last six games – including a thumping 7-1 victory over Romford the previous weekend – to climb into the top half of the table, but they were unable to maintain that level of performance as they were comprehensively beaten.

A thrilling contest saw numerous chances created at both ends from the start, and Jamie Guy almost gave VCD an early lead with a shot that clipped the bar.

Dean Fenton was thwarted by home keeper Nik Freund and David Olufemi fired narrowly wide as Borough also looked threatening, and the visitors then squandered a golden opportunity to break the deadlock when Fenton headed against the bar from close range with the goal at his mercy.

This miss was to prove costly as the hosts opened the scoring on 40 minutes when Mitch Hahn's long throw caused havoc in the Borough defence and Guy smashed a volley into the net from 15 yards out.

But most of the drama came in the second period and VCD doubled their advantage within two minutes of the restart – Hahn latching on to a through-ball and firing a low shot into the corner.

Borough responded well to this double setback and reduced their deficit almost immediately when Adrian Markus found himself in the clear and beat Freund from close range.

Two minutes later the scores were level as the ball was worked down the left to Markus, who cut in field and curled a superb shot into the top corner.

The momentum seemed to be with the visitors at this stage, but they fell behind again on 59 minutes when Mekhi McLeod scored with a powerful shot after latching on to Kojo Awotwi's pass.

Borough never really recovered from this and the hosts went on to make it 4-2 nine minutes from time – McLeod picking out Hahn at the far post, who took one touch before volleying home.

With VCD now in total control they completed the visitors' misery by adding a fifth late on when McLeod netted with a low shot after being found in space by Hahn.

Haringey Borough host Heybridge Swifts on Saturday (3pm).
